PROCESS OF MAKING HATS

Elaborate Machinery and Much Human Labor Necessary for the Manufacture of Headgear.

The manufacture of hats is one of the most interesting of manufacturing processes and few workers of this important part of the male wardrobe would recognize in the great bales of rabbit, hare, muskrat, otter and other skins that come to the Danbury fur factories the material from which their (fur) felt hats are made. The best skins and by far the largest portion are imported and arrive in great bales containing from 2,000 to 4,000 skins. Many processes are gone through in the factory before the fur is ready for the hat manufacturer, who, after putting it through blowers, which clean the fur from foreign substances and burl, start the actual making of a hat by weighing out just enough fur to make a given size and weight of soft or stiff headgear. The fur is fed into an enclosed machine in which is a revolving copper cone, perforated and wet, beneath which is a rapidly revolving suction fan which creates a downward air current. The result is that the light weight fur is whirled about until it appears like a miniature snow storm and gradually and evenly settles on the cone. When all the fur for one hat is thus fed into the former and is deposited on the cone, the machine is opened, the operator wraps a cloth about the cone with its evenly deposited covering of fur, removes the cone and slips off the first form of the hat. It appears to be a conical, wet and delicate object, but is quickly immersed in warm water, which increases the holding quality of the fur so that the "hottles" can be safely handled through the successive processes of shrinking to exact sizes, drying for dyed colors and drying, all of which is necessary before the rough bodies begin their travels through the hands of various skilled workmen who shape and block and trim, with the aid of almost human mechanical aids, the bodies into finished hats.

PRESBYTERIANS AT RALLY DAY SERVICE

SUNDAY SCHOOL OF LOCAL CHURCH HELD EXERCISES SUNDAY.

GIVE SPECIAL PROGRAM

Special Sermon by Rev. Melrose at the Regular Morning Service at Ten-thirty.

Rally day services with its promotion exercises, was fittingly celebrated yesterday morning by the Presbyterian Sunday school. The meeting began at 9:45 o'clock in the parlors of the church. George S. Wright, superintendent of the Sunday school, being in charge. The patriotic spirit of the times was observed by the large flags hung about the rooms and the singing of America as an opening number by the members of the school. The following program was given:

Duet—"Come Unto Me," Miss McCulloch and Mr. Schoot. Walter Littlefield—"Rally Day," Walter Littlefield. "Autumn," Beginners' department. Mrs. Allen, Lovejoy in charge. Recitation—"I wish I were a Sunbeam," Virginia Bate. Song—"Lead Me On the Way," Irving Horn.

Exercise by primary department. Mrs. Kober in charge. Recitation by the church choir. Recitation by the church choir. Recitation by the church choir.

The following children were promoted from the beginner's department into the primary: Virginia Bate, Hazel Crow and Virginia Hugg. The ceremony included the opening of a gate in a flower decorated fence, to let the little people enter the higher grade. The following children were given diplomas: William Doppe, manager of the delivery company, told the chief of police that he would swear out a warrant for the arrest of Stevens on the charge of taking the horse and buggy which contained two valuable blankets.

Leo Waehr, a native of China, got into an argument with George Ostrander while they were on their way home from a trip to the business district on Saturday. The argument was over a considerable sum of money which the frassess Waehr reported to the police and told the chief that he was going to swear out a warrant against Ostrander.

Judge Maxfield handed out two small fines in the municipal court, this morning, to the two Sunday offenders, who were charged with being drunk. George Grant was fined $3 and costs or five days in jail. Frank Schumlin paid a fine of $5 and costs.

Protestant Marshal General Crowder has announced a sweeping change in the machinery of the selective draft, based on division of the remaining registrants into five classes in order of their eligibility for military service. The complete details of the new plan have not as yet been given out to the public.

President Wilson, has approved the complete details of the change. As the next call to the colors is to be made under the new plan, this draft is taken to indicate that the second call is not to be expected before the first of the year, although no authoritative statement on this point is available at the present time.

The classification of the men is for economic reasons. The first class will naturally include all those men who can give good reason for being exempted from service. Class two will be composed of the first line of married men who have no real dependents. In class three the highly skilled will be placed as they may be required in the war.

The method of obtaining this information is through a "questionnaire," a series of questions calculated to produce the information required to place each man in the proper class. Every registrant will be mailed every registrant, not yet in service, on a date to be fixed, seven days being given to each registrant to complete and return the same. Every applicant will be offered to each man to complete his questionnaire fully and without error.

The local boards will then examine each questionnaire and assign each registrant to one of the five classes.

SPECIAL WAR TAX HITS ROCK COUNTY

Three Cent Postage Stamp Now in Effect—Government Will Realize Millions.

The three cent postage stamp has made its appearance at the local post office, according to Postmaster J. J. Cunningham. The two cent stamp for letters is now obsolete.

The United States government, through this war tax, realizes approximately one hundred million dollars for letters, and seventy million dollars for the two cent post card. The amount realized from Rock county will be probably be higher.

These figures of Postmaster Cunningham are admitted to be very conservative and the amount of war tax from the county will probably be higher. The amount of business transacted here and out of the county. It shows that men of this county are not lacking in progress or initiative and the business men of the county are wide awake to the opportunities out of the county to places where Rock county products are needed. The postage business can rightly be taken as a sort of thermometer of the prosperity of the community in which it is.

It also marks the high cost of living, for no longer can the love-lorn swain send a love epistle to his beloved every day of the week, but must satisfy "sweetness" with one or two letters a week or go into voluntary bankruptcy.

EDGERTON PLATOON IS NOW QUARTERED WITH LOCAL GUARDS

(By Sergeant Beard.) Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas, Oct. 16, 1917.—The Edgerton boys are now with us sixty-seven strong. They arrived about ten-thirty this morning and were immediately assigned to their tents and squads.

This morning eighty privates, eight corporals and three sergeants were sent over to the field and given trenching and digging assignments. This sure is some job and the men all came back at "recall" ready for a good dinner. It seemed strange to have so many more men in the mess than yesterday, but they were welcome as we have been anticipating their coming for a number of days.

The boys will soon be settled and we will be all working together for the defense of the hill. It is to the interest of every man in this command to make the company the best in the regiment, which we can all do if we try.

It has been rather warm here today, but is somewhat cooler this evening. It seems so queer to hear of the folks at home wearing furs and buying heavy gloves, etc., in preparation for winter.

With the arrival of the 32nd Michigan Infantry at Camp MacArthur, the last of the Michigan regiment, the boys are now here and the work of preparing to rout the Germans in the spring drive of 1918 is progressing.

Company C of the 32d is composed of men from 12 different states and districts. The men are one of the best in the regiment. Their leader is Captain Leroy Pearson, a national guard officer of long standing and well known by all of the men in his command.

Earl Apple is the company comedian and no matter how hard the work is, his smile can be seen. This company is said to have talent for one of the strongest baseball teams in the camp. It consists of members of the strong independent team of the 12th regiment who won the championship last year. Frank Tallant, the center fielder of the team, is one of the best known stars of Michigan.

Leonard William White are two of the company members and they assist Apple in entertaining the men. Hundreds upon hundreds of people have been in Michigan and Wisconsin and they have written to their friends who are in training at Camp MacArthur.

Instead of the soldiers' camp in Waco, it is a regular army camp. The Y. M. C. A. headquarters at the camp to be called for by the soldiers.

All letters addressed to the company and the regiment to which the men belong, are sent to the dead letter office at the Y.

Despite stories which have been told by the soldiers that there are more than 1,000 letters waiting at the camp, the men have not called for them. For instance, one of the men in the headquarters of the company, a private, had two letters at the Y. and doubtless they would be brought them to him. I might say here that the "Bugle" is a paper that is available in Camp MacArthur for the interest of the soldier boys. I hope that none of our boys have letters at this dead letter office.

Due to rumors which were said to have been spread in Waco, a number of men from the 12th heavy artillery arose at a late hour on Saturday night to take a trip to the city where a lynching was being held. The men were heard to say that these affairs are often held in the south, and the men have been in readiness to attend the event.

On Saturday night word was passed around at the camp that there was going to be a lynching, and instantly the men donned their coats and started for the city. As the hour was around two o'clock in the morning, the officers were much wrought up over being awakened and the men were sent back to their tents.

A number of the men obtained permits to go to town, but after walking the streets in a futile attempt to discover the "Pee," they decided to go back to camp.

The detail for today was as follows: Police officer—Lieutenant Patton. In charge of quarters—Sergeant Rianery. Privates—Corporal Condon, Privates M. W. Ryzer, Ryan, D. Williams, Anderson, M. Berger, O. Berger, Bickie, Burhans.

Kitchen police—O'Connor, Peske, Row, Weller, Arnold. Company and Camp Notes. Mechanic Rulleedge of Company M, 128th regiment, caught a snake Wednesday and served it to the boys for a treat. The snake was taken of Rutledge and his play snake, which was about eight feet long, and one of them offered to feed it. Rutledge got offended when the snake attempted to bite him and killed the reptile. He now has the skin as a token of his once fond snake friend.

WALTER MYERS DIED ON SUNDAY EVENING

Passed Away Without Warning at Home of Sister, Mrs. C. A. Stuart, on Sunday Evening.

A THOUSAND DEATHS DAY IS THE TOLL IN LEBANON MOUNTAINS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
New York, Oct. 22.—A thousand deaths a day from starvation out of a population of 350,000 in the Lebanon Mountains near Beirut, Syria, is the toll of famine conditions there resulting from the war, it was declared here today by the Rev. William H. Hall of the Syrian Protestant college, who recently returned to this country from relief work in that district.

Continuing, Mr. Hall described the tragic disappointment of the people there, whose spirits were kept up for weeks by the promised arrival last Christmas time of the American relief ship Caesar, which would have meant life to thousands, but which never arrived owing to the refusal of Germany and Austria-Hungary to grant her safe passage to Beirut.

The Caesar, a naval collier loaned to the Red Cross by the navy department, left New York months before the entry of this country into the war, as a "Christmas ship" for the needy in Syria, carrying more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of food and clothing contributed in this country.

Day after day the poor, starving people along the coast and through the mountains looked and prayed for the coming of the "American ship," Mr. Hall said. The country was ravaged by well organized and disciplined bands of marauders, the needy were starved, the work of distribution was thoroughly paralyzed, offices were looted and men chosen to direct the distribution. The people waited their hopes were raised high.

Week followed week and month followed month—in suspense the people daily looked out to sea for the ship which meant life and hope to thousands never appeared. She was held by "military necessity" while the people starved.

"God has forgotten us," was heard again and again as hopeless and hungry they stood face to face with death by starvation.

If the Caesar had arrived it would have meant that other ships would follow but her failure to come dashed all hope for relief. Her cargo was sold and the funds finally found their way to Beirut for the purchase and distribution of food there, but there was little food to be bought.

"We know for a fact that thousands of our friends there will die this winter, despite the great good that can be accomplished by sending funds from America to buy what food can be obtained on the ground for distribution in an effort to save as many as possible."

The city of Beirut is as sorely afflicted as the mountain districts, Mr. Hall went on, and day or night, one hears the cry along the streets, "I am hungry, give me bread." This is not from beggars but from laborers and tradesmen people who have known the comforts of life.

"In a district," he continued, "one cannot pass along a street without being asked for money for aid. There are mothers with babes pulling at their barren breasts and children whose parents have succumbed, left them to face starvation alone."

Syria and Palestine have no story of massacre or deportation, but these districts, once prosperous and self-sufficient, are now caught in the world strife, and the people are slowly but surely starving to death through no fault of their own. Figures are not competent authorities assert that no less than 200,000 people are in dire distress in these historic lands.

"Of this number at least 75,000 are children below the age of 12—boys and girls and little children with no other persons to provide the food without which they will perish, or to soothe the last hours when hunger will have overcome the forces of nature and the hour has come for them to face the great eternal without father or mother near."

FRENCH COLONISTS ARE LOYAL TO FLAG

(BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.)
French Front, Oct. 22.—"You white men are forced to fight; we are volunteers," say proudly France's colonial soldiers when they reply to questions as to the reason for their coming to Europe to fight. Whether they come from Senegal, Madagascar or Somaliland, all of them express gladness at the opportunity to pay off old scores for cruelties committed on their kindred in the German colonies in Africa, the news of which has been spread among them from one end of the continent to the other by their mysterious methods of communication. All of them know of the fate of the Herero nation in German Southwest Africa, where only a few wandering groups remain alive of what once was a powerful native tribe.

Undoubtedly the most popular of the French colonial volunteers are the coal-black Senegalese. Their action in the field and their devotion to their white officers have become proverbial. The mentality of these tribesmen is almost infantile in its simplicity, but they are quick to learn. Their ability is such in warlike matters that they have become expert in very short time with all the most modern weapons. Many of them before coming to France have undergone training in the colonies and consequently are acquainted with European drill and discipline. Others are raw recruits, who are exercised first when they reach French soil. The eagerness of all to acquire proficiency with the new weapons is such that even in their hours of rest in their instruction camps they may be seen in groups exercising with them and repeating the words of command in French, which they rapidly learn.

It has been asserted erroneously that negro troops are not able to support the strain of a bombardment. There certainly have been instances in which a company of Senegalese, when all its white officers have been picked off by German sharpshooters, has hesitated during an advance, but this was merely because they did not know what to do. Douaumont, the battle of the Aisne, the Somme offensive, the attack on Launay Mill and the defense of Craonne and the California and Casemates plateau have all been scenes of the heroic courage of the negro troops under the fiery fire of the most terrific character.

A battalion of Senegalese stationed on the spot where the village of Fleury had once stood on the Verdun front, during the heavy fighting which there made an advance during which their flank reached almost to the fort of Douaumont. Then they walked into an enfolding fire from dozens of German machine guns. The French commander, Captain Chauvin, ordered his men to form the machine gun positions. The German gunners, on seeing the black warriors coming at them, threw up their hands and surrendered to the number of sixty. The German resistance all along the line was overcome owing to this daring feat. Their brilliant work has won the distinction of the war-cross in many of the negro troops and the entire battalion was mentioned in army orders for its bravery.

When in rest camp the Senegalese amuse themselves like schoolboys. Dancing and singing and gambling occupy much of their time. Many of them however, give up hours daily to learning French for they regard everything pertaining to France as better than anything else. One of them who came upon an American prisoner was on a point of attacking him, but spoke to the American in his best French. The American did not understand and the African turned and walked away, leaving a disheartened expression on his face. "Why? You don't understand French? Have you never been to school?"

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Oct. 22.—That Wisconsin corporations experienced unusual prosperity last year is indicated by the income tax statement on corporations, made public today, showing an increase in state incorporation taxes of from $3,143,180.17 to $7,345,987.73. ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS. AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

This newspaper is a member of the Wisconsin Patriotic Press Association and pictures its uncompromising loyalty to our Government in this war.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

PATRIOTISM.

It would appear to the rank outsider in this game of securing contributions for the Liberty bonds those committed might make a list that would be useful to the secret service men later on. Personalities have no place in the campaign to arm and equip our citizen soldiers and the member of the committee who waits upon him because of former personal relations, does not show the true spirit of patriotism even though he later makes a liberal contribution.

This campaign for Liberty loan subscriptions should not be handled as it is, say what you may. No man should be urged to subscribe. Every citizen of the United States should see forward and place at the disposal of their government their money. Still men with hundreds of thousands of dollars to loan at "so much per cent." are reluctant to offer the government the use of their money. This has been called the man's war, but you will find many of every class in the army. Right here at home you will find many who can afford to give, and give liberally, who are down on the lists for a fifty dollar bond. They can receive a larger rate of interest by private loans. Is this patriotism? No! Perhaps it may interest these individuals to know that their loans are listed more later on when need comes, the first chance to beat the committee to the bank to subscribe fifty dollars.

LIBERTY BONDS. The citizen's committees, the women's committees, the Boy Scouts and all who are urging the sale of the Liberty bonds should not neglect the rare opportunity of lining up the true citizen and those who wish to watch. This nation is at war with a foreign power—unfortunately, the fatherland—and many who were born within its territory or who are descendants of those who were born there, feel it incumbent upon themselves to advocate the doctrines of their "fatherland," forgetting the fact that this nation of which they are now citizens, gives them their bread and butter and a home and asylum from the war's waste. The Liberty bonds give every citizen a chance to show their individual patriotism. Those who did not subscribe on the first issue have an opportunity now, and if they neglect this last call they may find themselves called upon to do more than subscribe later on. This is no threat, but simply what may happen. The fatherland they obey and revere has played no favorites and were they back there where they belong they would find that taxation was not a pleasure with interest promised, but a necessity. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THEIR BIT.

It one doubts the enthusiasm and interest of the average American boy under military age, to make this nation the greatest in the world, they should look at the work being done by the Janesville Boy Scouts and the Scouts all over this nation. These boys are selling Liberty bonds. They have some about their voluntary task with all the vim and enthusiasm of well drilled, hardy salesmen, and they are obtaining results. Stop and think that in the sale of the first Liberty bonds last June the various Scout organizations in the United States disposed of over twenty-seven million dollars' worth of these bonds. Now they are at it again and are anxious to do their "bit" as they grow up, they wear the khaki and carry a gun. When they approach you for your subscription to a bond remember that these young salesmen are working for the "boys over there." Perhaps their brother, their father or some near relative, and heed their call.

Nor did the Scouts' activities end when they completed their June bond sale. The gardens they planted, weeded and harvested all played their part in furnishing food supplies. This Scout organization is a wonderful affair. It teaches the boys independence, loyalty, obedience and self-reliance. The men who devote their time to teaching these men of the next decade are working a wonderful problem out and working it out successfully.

All honor to the Janesville Scouts and their ready response to the call for aid in selling these bonds. May their work bear down upon the Prussian despot and be the final straw that breaks the war lord's power. Each bond sold adds material aid to crushing out the war spirit and the fact these boys have aided in this work gives them a feeling of responsibility that is most excellent for their future.

NEWSPAPER LAW.

That there are hard days for the newspapers is most certain. The Milwaukee Sentinel, under the caption, "Use of the Mails," calls attention to this fact and also some of the misuses of the mails in a manner that demands attention. The Sentinel says:

"The senate passed a law last August under which newspapers may be and now are being excluded from the mails and practically put out of business. By so doing, the senate committed itself to the principle that the national safety and interest in this time of war requires that the circulation of such printed matter be suppressed. It now has before it the case of Senator La Follette.

"It is stated from Washington that the senator has had printed and is having mailed, all at the public expense, to all parts of the country, hundreds of thousands of his speeches condemning the war measures of the government in spite of the fact that those measures were enacted and are now a part of the law of the land. "What, on principle, is the senate going to do about it? Make fish of one class of allegedly disloyal public-carions and flesh of another—suppress the circulation of newspapers and let the senators of speeches go free? Of course, the allegedly seditious and dangerous character of the speeches will have to be determined. But suppose it is so determined. Then what?

"Here is a fair test by comparison: 'The newspaper published by Mr. Berger in this city has been excluded from the mails, under the law which the senate passed.' Let Mr. La Follette's speeches, particularly the one at St. Paul, be compared with Mr. Berger's offending articles. As literary compositions, Mr. Berger's articles will doubtless appear abler than the productions of Mr. La Follette—Mr. Berger is a writer by trade.

"But passage for passage, we venture to say that nothing in Mr. Berger's articles will be found more offensive to patriotism than some passages and implications in Mr. La Follette's St. Paul speech; and as utterances of a national senator the latter are more potent for mischief. "The senate stands committed to the principle that matter found to be seditious must be suppressed at this time. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

SENATOR HUSTING.

News that United States Senator Paul Husting was accidentally shot and killed Sunday afternoon comes as a distinct shock to the entire state. Elected as a democratic member of the senate of the United States, Mr. Husting has proven himself one of the most loyal and efficient members of the body and has shown himself above mere party politics. His death just at this time is a distinct loss to the state as a whole, for in the wave of adverse public sentiment against the other senator from Wisconsin he has proven the one redeeming feature that every citizen who is loyal to the government could point with pride for his own and a strong stand by the president. He was a strong, honest and fearless legislator and his demise is to be sincerely regretted by all who have come in touch with him and his work.

There will be a lot of millionaires after this war is over, but it is safe to say they will not be among those who went to the front, but those who stood back, refused to buy Liberty bonds, and charged double prices for everything they sold or manufactured.

This is the time for making "nuts" while the cold October days last. Soon the squirrels will have their supply all harvested and then what will the poor citizen do? Buy them at a store at war prices?

We are told now that the sugar crop is going to be so small that we must go without our Christmas supply of candy. To the average citizen with a sweet tooth this is the most unkind cut of all.

Some of those absolute pro-German sympathizers before the war broke out should be placed on record as regards their purchase of the Liberty bonds. The time to do it is now, not later.

The high school boys evince the right spirit in forming their two companies for military drill and the next thing to do is to equip them with uniforms and rifles.

BEGGING GERARD'S PARDON.

Far be it from us to break up the meeting or to cast any aspersions at anybody at all, but Ambassador Gerard's famous statement that he would not sign that paper if he had to stay in France forever, denotes a slight, absence of serious thought.

Being a student of hell, having experienced it upon several occasions, we feel constrained to call the ambassador's statement to the generally conceded fact that a large portion of hell is already frozen over. It always has been so.

Portions of the place are covered with ice. Even Dante who admits very few things, admits that. The ice portion is where the proprietors of apartment houses go. The ambassador probably spoke in great haste and will doubtless accept the amendment, which is offered, in good faith.

Hell is not all warm and pleasant and Palmbeach. It has its fringed zone.

ENVY.

It's a bigger thing you're doing than the most of us have done. We have lived the days of pleasures, now the gray days have begun. And upon your manly shoulders fall the burdens of the strife. Your's must be the sacrifices of the trial time of life. Oh, I don't know how to say it, but I'll never think of you Without wishing I were sharing in the work you have to do.

I have never known a moment that was fraught with real care. Save the hurts and griefs of sorrow that all mortals have to bear; With the gay and smiling marchers I have tramped on pleasant ways And have paid with feeble service for the gladness of my days. But to you has come a summons, your's are days of sacrifice, And for all life has of sweetness you must pay a bitter price.

Men have fought and died before me, men must fight and die today, I have merely taken pleasures for which others had to pay; I have been a man of laughter, there's no path my feet have made, I have more joy than a marcher in life's gaudy dress parade. But you wear the garb of service, you have spendid deeds to do, You shall sound the depths of manhood, and my boy, I envy you.

CELEBRATION PLANNED

BELOIT HERE TUESDAY

Many Automobile Loads of Beloit
Boosters of the Liberty Loan Will Come to Janesville Tuesday Evening.

With the securing of several additional subscriptions for the Liberty Loan, the celebration planned for this city to aid in the drive to secure subscriptions for the second Liberty Loan, the committee in charge of the work have decided to celebrate on Thursday of this week rather than Wednesday which was officially proclaimed Liberty Loan day by the Governor Philipp for the State of Wisconsin.

The change in plans for the celebration was due to the fact that the city has been able to secure the Great Lakes Naval band for the occasion to lead the parade and to add inspiration to the meeting. A small company of marines will also come to the city to do their share in the great drive. The band and the marines will arrive in this city Thursday evening at 10 and will be banqueted by the lady members of several of the churches who will give their services for the comfort of the jacks.

Nothing definite as to the plans for the parade and who will march has been done although the committee is hard at work getting everything in readiness. The announcement of the further particulars will be made at a later time. In addition to the parade in the evening a mass meeting will be held indoors the place where the meeting is to be held, being yet undecided.

Martin J. Gillen, of Racine, will be the speaker of the evening and will talk on the merits of the Liberty bonds and the efforts necessary on the part of the people to make the bonds a success for the government.

The total subscribed for the city of Janesville up to Saturday night was $401,690 which shows that the fifty thousand dollar goal is within reach for the work of the committees on Saturday which is a creditable showing. With the campaign coming to a close on next Saturday night added to the Liberty bond and the efforts of the people in order that the sum of seven hundred and fifty thousand may be reached.

Beloit in a short campaign of a few days has passed the one million mark and is out to establish a record for many cities to strive to equal. Beloit is so jubilant over their showing that they are planning a booster trip to Janesville on Tuesday evening. Many auto loads decorated for the occasion will come to this city and give a demonstration. Speakers will accompany them and talk to the people who will be on hand to join in with Beloit in their phenomenal success in reaching such a high figure which will add greatly to the quota assigned to Rock County.

Report received by M. G. Jeffris, county chairman, show that some sections are living up to expectations but others are far behind. Evansville is making a very creditable showing with $114,000 so far subscribed. Milton Junction, Edgerton, Clinton and the town of Milton are running behind and will have to put in some good subscriptions before the campaign is over to remain up to standard.

The city work continues with the same steady drive which has characterized the work throughout the campaign. In an effort to stimulate interest a Liberty Loan booth will be placed in J. M. Bestwick's store which will be in charge of the ladies of the city who are giving up their time for the soliciting of subscriptions. Competent people will be charged to explain the Liberty bond and to make plain the plan to the people. One of the bonds which will soon be issued to all those making subscriptions now will be on display so that all will have a chance to see it.

M. G. Jeffris, Rock county chairman, will go to Milwaukee on Tuesday where he will address five hundred workers of Milwaukee and a banquet will be held at the Pfister hotel.

W. H. Sargent, W. R. C. No. 21 will meet at the Baptist church for their regular meeting and inspection Tuesday, Oct. 23rd, at 10:30 a. m. sharp. Dinner served by the Baptist ladies at 12:00 o'clock. District convention will be held in the afternoon. Sadie A. Carman, Secretary.

OBITUARY.

Bernard Dugan.
Janesville today mourns the loss of a man and pioneer citizen, in the passing away on Sunday afternoon of Bernard Dugan, who for fifty years was a resident of this city who saw Janesville grow up from a little hamlet of a few houses, to a thriving, restless, rushing city which it has grown to be.

Mr. Dugan had not been sick at all. He was enjoying his usual good health and had just eaten dinner and was going out for a walk. He had scarcely reached the front yard when the Angel of Death overtook him and took his spirit to the great beyond. To his wife, who had preceded him in death two years ago.

Mr. Dugan was eighty-two years old and had lived in Janesville for more than fifty years. He leaves to mourn his loss five sons, Hugh, John, James, Patrick and Ben Dugan, all of this city, and two daughters, Misses Mary and Nellie Dugan, also of this city. The funeral will be held at nine o'clock Tuesday morning from St. Patrick's church. Burial will be made in day morning from 8 to 10.

Will You Help the Boys Come Marching Home Again?

YOUR opportunity to subscribe to the Second Liberty Loan comes at the time when you have just begun to realize that your country is actually at war.

You have watched, with a swelling heart, your boys and their comrades march proudly away to do their bit in the war to save civilization and preserve liberty.

Your one great regret is that you cannot go with them; your most fervent hope and prayer is that they may return safely, and victorious.

This Is the Purpose of the Second Liberty Loan

The purpose of the Second Liberty Loan is to help make victory sure and to save the lives of our sons.

The money you pay for Liberty Bonds buys food, clothing, guns and ammunition for the boys you now see marching away.

They cannot fight without arms or equipment; the more quickly and liberally these needs are supplied the sooner the war will be over—and the more American soldiers will come home safely.

The bond you buy will help buy these necessities. It may save a precious life.

Your Part Is Merely To Lend Money

Those stalwart lads you have seen marching past with smiles on their lips and high courage in their hearts are ready to lay down their lives for their country.

Their country—YOUR country—simply asks you to LEND your money to help our soldiers win the war—to aid in arming and feeding and clothing them—to protect them as they fight YOUR battles.

This is a Duty, a solemn, sacred Duty, which MUST be performed.

This is a Duty which falls upon all of us, rich or poor according to our means and our ability.

The war is now a fact—an American fact. We are in it. We are in it to stay. We are in it to win it. We MUST win it. Our sons must come back to us crowned with a glorious victory. Our country must be safeguarded from disasters whose gravity we have only recently begun to realize. The world must be purged, purified and made free.

You want to do your part. You are eager to help in every way you can. The one big, fine thing you can do is to lend your money to your Government.

Buy Liberty Bonds

The Safest Investment In the World

Bear in mind that you are not asked to give anything.

Liberty Bonds are an investment. The principal is safe, and you are paid interest for the use of your money.

These bonds are the safest investment in the world because the United States of America with all its tremendous resources stands behind them. If the United States endures, your bonds are safe. If the United States does not endure, you lose everything you possess. And we are in this war to make sure that the United States DOES endure.

When you buy Liberty Bonds you are helping to fight YOUR war and protect YOUR interests. Your interests and your country's are one and inseparable.

Liberty Bonds Are Easy To Buy

The Second Liberty Loan is open for subscription.

Liberty Bonds are easy to buy.

Your bank—any bank—will take your subscription without any fee or charge for services, and hold the bonds for you after they are issued.

by RANDALL PARRISH

A Romance of Early Days in the Middle West

Author of "Keith of the Border," "My Lady of Doubt," "The Maid of the Forest," etc.

Even as I reached this decision, something arose in my throat and choked me, for my eyes saw just outside the curve of the shore line a canoe emerging from the shadows of the bluff. I cannot picture the reaction, the sudden shrinking fear which, in that instant, mastered me. They were coming, seeking me; coming to drag me back into slavery; coming to denounce D'Artigny of crime and demand his life.

I sank down out of sight, yet my decision was made in an instant. It did not seem to me then as though another course could be taken. That D'Artigny was innocent I had no doubt. I loved him, this I no longer denied to myself, and I could not possibly betray the man to the mad vengeance of Cassion. I peered forth, across the ridge of earth concealing me from observation, at the distant canoe. It was too far away for me to be certain of its occu-

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

NOTICE TO SICK WOMEN

Positive Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Bridgeport, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change for the better. I took it until I was in good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with such good results."—Mrs. MILDRED T. CUMMINGS, 322 Harmony St., Penn's Grove, N.J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.

paits, yet I assured myself that Indians were at the paddles, while three others, whose dress designated them as whites, occupied places in the boat. I turned and ran down the bank to where the fire yet glowed dully in the hollow, emitting a faint spiral of blue smoke, dug dirt up with my hands and covered the coals, until they were completely extinguished. Then I crept back to the bluff summit and lay down to watch.

The canoe rounded the curve in the shore and headed straight across toward where I rested in concealment. Their course would keep them too far away from the little strip of sand on which we had landed to observe the imprint of our feet or the pile of wood D'Artigny had flung down. I observed this with an intense feeling of relief as I peered cautiously out from my covert.

I could see now clearly the faces of those in the canoe—the dark, expressionless countenances of the Indians, and the three white men, all gazing intently at the shore line, as they swept past, a soldier in the bow, and Pere Allouez and Cassion at the stern, the latter standing, gripping the steering paddle. The sound of his rasping, disagreeable voice reached me first.

"This is the spot," he exclaimed, pointing. "I saw that headland just before the storm struck. But there is no wreck here, no sign of any landing. What is your judgment, pere?" "That further search is useless, monsieur," answered the priest. "We have covered the entire coast, and found no sign of any survivors; no doubt they were all lost."

"This likely true, for there was small hope for any swimmer in such a sea. Go on, round the long point yonder, and if there is no sign there we will return. This my thought they were all drowned, and there is no need of our seeking longer. Pull on boys, and let us finish the job."

They rounded the point, the pere talking earnestly, but the canoe so far away I could not overhear his words. Cassion paid small heed to what he urged, but, at last, angrily bade him be still, and, after a glance into the narrow basin beyond, swung the bow of the canoe about and headed it southward, the return course further off shore. The Indians paddled with renewed energy and in a few moments they were so far away their faces were indistinguishable, and I ventured to sit on the bank, my gaze still on the vanishing canoe.

So intent was I that I heard no sound of approaching footsteps, and knew nothing of D'Artigny's presence until he spoke.

"What is that yonder—a canoe?" I started, shrinking back, suddenly realizing what I had done, and the construction he might place upon my action.

"Yes," I answered faintly, "it—it is a canoe."

"But it is headed south; it is going away," he paused, gazing into my face. "Did it not come this far?"

"Yes, monsieur; but listen. No, do not touch me. Perhaps it was all wrong, yet I thought it right. I lay here hidden from view and watched them; I extinguished the fire so they could not see the smoke. They came so near I could hear their voices, and distinguish their words, yet I let them pass."

"Who were in the canoe?" "Besides the Indians, Cassion, Pere Allouez and the soldier Descartes. Do you realize, monsieur, why I chose to remain unseen? Why I have done what must seem an unwomanly act?" "No, madame, yet I cannot deem your reason an unwomanly one—yet wait; could it be fear for my life?" "It was that, and that only, monsieur. The truth came to me in a flash when I first perceived the canoe approaching yonder. I felt that hate rather than love, urged Cassion to make search for us. I feel I have chosen right, monsieur, and yet I must trust you to never cause me to regret that I am the wife of Monsieur Cassion."

To my surprise his face brightened, his eyes smiling, as he bowed low before me.

"Your confidence shall not be betrayed, madame," he said gallantly. "I pledge you my discretion whatever circumstances may arise. There is no cur in the D'Artigny strain, and I fight my own battles. Some day I shall be face to face with Francois Cassion, and if then I fail to strike home it will be memory of your faith which restrains my hand. And now I rejoice that I can make your sacrifice less grievous."

"In what way, monsieur?"

"In that we are no longer entirely alone in our wilderness adventure. I have fortunately brought back with me a comrade, whose presence will rob Cassion of some sharpness of tongue—a soldier under Monsieur de la Durantaye, who has camp below at the portage to the Des Plaines. Out yonder I ran on him, bearing some message from Green Bay—an odd fellow, but with a gun at his shoulder, and a tongue with which to tell the truth on occasion. Come, madame, there is naught now you need to fear."

CHAPTER XV.

We Decide Our Course.

I accepted D'Artigny's outstretched hand, and permitted him to assist me down the bank. The new arrival was just within the edge of the forest, bending over a freshly kindled fire, barely commencing to blaze, and beside him on the grass lay a wild fowl, already plucked of its feathers. So intent was the fellow at his task, he did not even lift his head until my companion halted him.

"Barbeau, here is the lady of whom I spoke—the wife of Monsieur Cassion."

He stood up and made me a salute as though I were an officer, as odd a looking little man as ever I had seen, with a small, peaked face, a mop of black hair, and a pair of shrewd, humorous eyes. His dress was that of a courier du bois, with no trace of uniform save the blue forage cap gripped in one hand, yet he stood stiff as if on parade. In spite of his strange, uncouth appearance there was that in his face which won my favor, and I held out my hand.

"You are a soldier of France, Monsieur D'Artigny tells me."

"Yes, madame, of the Regiment Carignan-Salliers," he answered.

"I wonder how you served long?"

"My father was an officer in that command—Captain la Chesnayne."

The expression on the man's face changed magically.

"You, the daughter of Captain la Chesnayne?" he exclaimed, the words bursting forth uncontrolled, "and married to Cassion! how can this be?"

"You knew him then—my father?"

"Ay, madame; I was with him at the Richelieu, at the village of the Mohawks; and at Bois le Blanc, where he died. I am Jacques Barbeau, a soldier for 20 years; did he not speak to you of me?"

"I was but a girl when he was killed, and we seldom met, for he was usually on campaign. Yet what do you mean by thus expressing surprise at my marriage to Monsieur Cassion?"

He hesitated, evidently regretting his impulsive speech, and glancing from my face into the stern eyes of D'Artigny.

"Monsieur, madame, I spoke hastily."

It was not my place." "That may be true, Barbeau," replied the Sleur grimly, "yet the words have been said, and the lady has a right to have them explained. Was there quarrel between her father and this Francois Cassion?"

"Ay, there was, and bitter, although I know nothing as to the cause. Cassion and La Barre—he whom I now hear is governor of New France—were alike opposed to Captain la Chesnayne, and but for reports they made he would have been the colonel. He struck Cassion in the mess tent, and they were to fight the very morning the Iroquois met us at Bois le Blanc. 'Twas the talk of the men that the captain was shot from behind."

"By Cassion?" "That I cannot say; yet the bullet entered behind the ear, for I was first to reach him, and he had no other enemy in the Regiment Carignan-Salliers. The feeling against M. Cassion was so strong that he resigned in a few months. You never heard this?" I could not answer, but stood silent with bowed head. I felt D'Artigny place his hand on my shoulder.

"The lady did not know," he said gravely, as though he felt the necessity of an explanation. "She was at school in a convent at Quebec, and no rumor reached her. She is thankful to you for what you have said, Barbeau, and can trust you as her father's friend and comrade. May I tell him the truth, madame? The man may have other information of value."

I looked at the soldier, and his eyes were grave and honest.

"Yes," I answered, "it can do no harm."

D'Artigny's hand was still on my shoulder, but his glance did not seek my face.

"There is some low trick here, Barbeau," he began soberly, "but the details are not clear. Madame has trusted me as a friend, and confided all she knows, and I will tell the facts to you as I understand them. False reports were made to France regarding Captain la Chesnayne. We have not learned what they were, or who made them, but they were so serious that Louis, by royal decree, issued order that his estates revert to the crown. Later La Chesnayne's friends got the ear of the king, no doubt through Frontenac, ever loyal to him, and by royal order the estates were restored to his ownership. This order of restoration reached Quebec soon

He Stood Up and Made Me a Salute, after La Barre was appointed governor, and was never made public. It was suppressed by someone, and La Chesnayne was killed three months later, without knowing that he had won the favor of the king."

"But Cassion knew; he was ever hand in glove with La Barre."

"We have cause to suspect so, and now, after listening to your tale, to believe that Captain la Chesnayne's death was part of a carefully formed plot. By accident the lady here learned of the conspiracy, through overhearing a conversation, but was discovered by La Barre hiding behind the curtains of his office. To keep her quiet she was forced into marriage with Francois Cassion, and bidden to accompany him on this journey."

Dinner Stories

In the riding school of a certain regiment a number of recruits were being put through their paces, learning how to ride. On the command "Halt!" one recruit was shot out of the saddle on the horse's neck, and in trying to regain the seat and stirrups caused his mount to rear and kick, with the result one hind leg was caught in the stirrup.

"Hi, there, Hackenschmidt! Get back on yer mat, cawn't yer!" roared the instructor.

The recruit, getting a glimpse of what was happening behind, replied between the bumps:

"Well, if this blinking-bump-horse-bump—is coming up here—I'm getting on!"

Rastus and Joe had been accepted by the local board and were talking over the service.

"What you gwine do?" asked Rastus.

"Ise gwine in the infantry. Whah you gwine?"

"Ise gwine in the cavalry," "Niggah, don't jine the cavalry; come on wif me in the infantry."

"No, sah. They gives you a boss in the cavalry."

"Niggah, when that captain gives the word to retreat, Ah don't want to be troubled with no boss!"

"I want to be honest, sir. I can't support your daughter, but I am afraid to tell her so because she has set her heart on marrying me."

"Never mind, do your best. I can't support her either."

MINNESOTA, CHICAGO AND ILLINOIS TAKE GAMES ON SATURDAY

Wisconsin, Purdue and Indiana Are the Losers in Big Conference Games Played Saturday.

Conference games of the west got together Saturday, with the result that Wisconsin, Purdue and Indiana were given the small end of the scores and their championship hopes were considerably darkened. Chicago, Minnesota and Illinois showed up as the big winners and they will have to fight it out with Ohio State for the leadership in the conference unless the Michigan can forward with a winning combination.

Wisconsin was forced to bow before the driving machine of Illinois, although they gave the men from Illinois a hard fight before the game was over. The Badgers performed in a superb fashion and but for two fumbles they would have been returned victors in the match. Twice they had the ball with striking distance of the opponents' goal but costly fumbles prevented them from scoring. Coach Richards had his men in the best of shape and the Badgers had a lot to be heard from as championship contenders before the season is over.

Chicago displayed an attack which will undoubtedly cause plenty of sleep in the Illinois and Minnesota camps. The final score of 27 to 0 over Purdue shows that the Hoosiers have not been sleeping up to this time. Illinois played in a finished fashion and with plenty of time to prepare for Minnesota and Illinois the Maroons are considered in the running for the title.

Minnesota, on the other hand won its game handsly and proves that Williams had an aggregation the same as of old. While he is minus the services of some of his best men he has developed some fairly material which have the strong drive and machine play which has characterized the Gophers' work for the past three or four years.

Ohio State and Northwestern took a rest on Saturday, having no games scheduled. Coach Wiley of Ohio State welcomed the rest as it will give him time to prepare for the more important games of the year. The defeat of Northwestern on the previous Saturday brought home the fact to followers of the gridiron sport that Ohio is a team and not a collection of individuals.

Coach Murphy of Northwestern spent the time given him by the injury to his team which will relieve itself for its next defeat. The Purple seems to have the material for a strong team and with the season just opening there is plenty of chance for a creditable combination.

In the east the interest was centered on the work of the Army team under the leadership of O'Fallon, the former Purdue star, who piloted his team to a 26 to 3 win over Tufts. O'Fallon himself scored three times in three periods of play.

Around the state Marquette demonstrated its ability in carrying the ball with a 100 to 0 victory over Oskosh Normal. Coach Ryan of Marquette has one of the strongest teams in the state and is expected to win the Catholic school championship.

The team is composed of veterans who know the game and who the followers of the team claim are on a par with the Wisconsin team. The Marquette team is expected to win the Catholic school championship.

Beloit, after a disastrous defeat at the hands of Marquette, came back strong and won from Jackson Forest at Beloit by a score of 6 to 0. It was homecoming day at Beloit and many of the old grads returned to see their team play their five games in the conference schedule.

Following are the important scores of games played Saturday:

At Champaign-Wisconsin, 0; Illinois, 7.

At Chicago-Purdue, 0; Chicago, 27.

At Minneapolis-Indiana, 0; Minnesota, 22.

At St. Louis-Drury, 7; St. Louis, 0.

At Cleveland-Case, 10; Baldwin-Wallace, 0.

At Cleveland-Reserve, 0; Kenyon, 0.

At Oxford, O.-Miami, 91; Earlham, 0.

At Dallas, Tex.-Texas, 17; Oklahoma, 14.

At Marietta-Marietta, 6; Cincinnati, 0.

At Ann Arbor-Michigan, 20; Michigan, 0.

At Lincoln-Nebraska, 7; Notre Dame, 0.

At South Bethlehem-Lehigh, 6; Georgetown, 11.

At Philadelphia-Pennsylvania, 20; Bucknell, 0.

At Washington, Pa.-Washington and Jefferson, 7; State, 0.

At New York-Columbia, 21; Union, 0.

At Cambridge-Harvard, 13; Maine, 0.

Wilbur Cooper of the Pirates had part in more shut-outs than almost any other pitcher last season.

The day of the game was a big part of the season and he finished true to form, shutting out Boston with four hits.

JANESVILLE LOSES GAME TO JEFFERSON BY SCORE OF 19-6

After Scoring the First Touchdown and Holding the Lead in the First Half the Local Team Met Defeat.

Janesville for a second time this season went down to defeat, on the gridiron, because they were unable to cope with their opponents in making line plunges and intercepting forward passes. In the first half of the game Janesville played real football and held their opponents to a scoreless half besides being able to score a touchdown themselves. In the second half they became too overconfident, believing they had the game cinched because of the touchdown they made in the first half, allowing Jefferson, who came back on the field with a determination to make up for the play they had allowed Janesville to make their touchdown on—to walk off with a victory.

But discredit can not be given a number of Janesville players, who fought like warriors in defense of the school's reputation. Young "Mike" Powers played a whirlwind game, making Janesville's only touchdown. "Mike" got the ball on a free fumble and ran forty yards for a touchdown, plowing through five men on his way to the goal. Inman showed up pretty well in making end runs. Nichols showed up well in making line plunges and promises to be a hard hitter.

Both teams seemed to be about evenly matched, man for man, in the line, but the Jefferson backfield far outplayed the Janesville backfield. Forward passes worked very well for Jefferson and seemed to keep the Janesville boys bewildered. Jefferson opened the second half by passing the ball to one of their men back of the goal and making their first touchdown. Then their fullback, in the third quarter, made the second touchdown by a line plunge. The game ended with Janesville losing the little end of the count and Jefferson victors. The score was 19 to 6.

The line-up for Janesville was as follows:

Sport Snap Shots

MORRIS MILLER

In St. Louis they seem determined to make a hold-out of Roger Hornsby and the sport pages there have been determined to win a three-year contract for $8,000 a year. What's more, the papers say that Rogers will quit the game and go back to driving the old milk wagon if his employers don't come across. Hornsby himself doesn't seem to have much to say about it at all and so far he has shown no disposition to become a spoiled and pampered sort of player, but if it proves true, it may sooner or later spoil him, as has happened to ball players before.

The Cincinnati Reds had nine pitchers all told in their employ through the past season, but five of them did most of the work. Tony pitched forty games and Pete Schreider pitched twenty-nine. Regan, Eller and Mitchell divided up the rest of them. King worked in ten games. Reuther in three and Sanders and Engel in one apiece. Tony won twenty-four games and gets a place among the pitching stars of the year.

Rabbit Maranville of the Boston Braves is no longer distinguished as the smallest player in the National league. Midge Caton, a recruit the Pirates picked up from Birmingham, is even shorter than Maranville, though he is just about the same weight. Caton in fact is said to be the smallest major leaguer to be seen in many moons.

It is being observed that light promoters will be up against it this season for good preliminary performers. It seems that most of the preliminary fighters have enlisted and unless enough can be recruited from the amateur ranks it may be a hard matter to stage as interesting light shows as heretofore. However this may be, it looks as though the lesser knowns are showing the big cards an example in participation. Few enough of the main bout fighters have shown much eagerness to do a little fighting where it will help everybody.

Now that Ban Johnson is all set to march off to war, Tip Barrow, president of the International league looks to be his most likely successor. At any rate Barrow's name has been prominently mentioned as a good man to hold down Ban's job for the duration of the war and quite a few have recommended him. Ban says that the American league will pull through well enough without him, as it can't sink so long as the present men are associated with it, and anyway he plans to leave baseball for the much greater gain of defending democracy. What more can be said? He'll be in the trenches before Cap Huston and Cap is already over there.

In spite of the fact that the American league has a big bulge on the feature for some while to come. This last world's series was held by many to be a supreme test of the merits of the two leagues, inasmuch as each team represented the very best in its league. Even though the American league of this season is shown to be superior to the National league and though it has worked out that way in many seasons heretofore, the fans will always be interested in seeing the contest, waged again. Besides the difference in the class of the two leagues is not so great that the American league can be said to completely outclass the National. The recent world's series was not a bore to anyone and only occasionally will there be one that is.

The record for accepted chances in the outfield is held by Jack Ryan, who once caught fourteen flies in one game while playing with the Chicago Cubs.

STOUGHTON DEFEATS EDGERTON; SCORE 7-0

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Edgerton, Oct. 20.—Edgerton high school took its first defeat in three years from Stoughton at the Driving park of this city last Saturday afternoon by the score of 7 to 0. The teams were evenly matched and Stoughton won the game by taking advantage of every break. Edgerton won the toss and decided to receive the kick-off. The first quarter ended with the line, using the Minnesota shift making first down after first down until they were on Stoughton's eight yard line when they lost their play and Stoughton took the ball on downs.

After several exchanges of punts Stoughton worked the ball into Edgerton territory, the fullback taking the ball off tackle for most of the gains on a fake on the order of a delayed pass. The first quarter ended with Stoughton in possession of the ball on Edgerton's twenty yard line. At the start of the second quarter Stoughton continued the march toward the Edgerton goal, but lost the ball on a fumble. After an attempt to gain Edgerton punted, Peters punting out of bounds inside of the ten yard line. Stoughton then scored on the same play of the fullback that had been good for nearly every gain of the Stoughton team.

Evansville News

Evansville, Oct. 22.—The Liberty loan committees have reason to be proud of the success of their efforts on Saturday for Liberty bonds to the amount of $50,200 were sold on that day. All members of the committees were at work on that day and that they worked with a will is evidenced by the total subscription list for Evansville at ten o'clock Saturday evening, recording $112,750. Only $27,250 more to raise to reach our apportionment of $140,000, and reach it we must. The soliciting committees set out on their work Wednesday morning and $112,750 in the sale of bonds is a very good record for four days' work. Beginning with today, there are five more days left for work for Evansville to answer "Aye, Aye, Sir," when President Wilson in calling the roll asks, "Evansville, Wisconsin, did you meet your apportionment?" The cry of these days is service. Whether in the army, the navy, the training camp, or left at home, it is service the government expects of us in those trying times and service we must give. Who protects our homes, liberty, life? Our government must have money to carry on the great war. Are you serving? Have you registered? Will you sign your draft at once? See to it today.

Liberty Day to be Observed Here. Wednesday, October 24, the day set aside by President Wilson as Liberty day, will be observed in Evansville. The afternoon and evening will be devoted to observances in keeping with the day. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at all the grocery stores. Good music will be in attendance—among other things a martial life and drum corps. A more detailed program will be given later.

Pioneer Resident Succumbs. Mrs. L. S. Palmer passed away Saturday evening at 5:40 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. T. Boyd on Park street. Mrs. Palmer was a pioneer resident of Rock county, having come here in 1834, and with the exception of this past year, when she resided in Beloit, she had always resided in Evansville. She, with her daughter, Miss May Palmer, were about to leave for California to make their future home. Their household goods have already been shipped to the west. Before leaving she and her daughter came to Evansville to visit her sister, Mrs. W. T. Boyd. Here she was stricken with the illness which resulted in her death. Emma J. Rowley was born in West Leyden, New York, March 18, 1834, coming to Evansville in 1854. She was married to L. S. Palmer in the year 1855. She died at L. S. Palmer in 1856. She leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Benner of Alton, Ill., and Mrs. L. Palmer of this city.

Make Your Money Win the War!

OVER in France are thousands of Uncle Sam's Boys in Khaki, and hundreds of thousands more will soon be there. That's their place on the Battle Line. They are fighting for you.

You have not worked to the beat of drums. You have not "sought the great prize of death in battle." But you can help tremendously—now—and show the Boys in Khaki that you are fighting for them in the Fields, or in the Factory, just as they are fighting for you in the Trenches.

BUY LIBERTY BONDS. Enlist every dollar you can raise to fight alongside your sons, brothers and neighbors, who are bearing the brunt of your battle in France!

The greatest service your dollars can render is but little compared with that of the boys who wear Uncle Sam's uniform. They are staking their lives. But you, in buying Liberty Bonds, are taking no chance, for Liberty Bonds, bearing interest at four per cent, are the best and safest investment you can make.

The dollar in your pocket is no more sound than a Liberty Bond. The Government is back of both. In fact, a Liberty Bond is even better than money, for money can never be worth more than one hundred cents on the dollar, while Liberty Bonds are just the same as cash and at the same time pay you $4 a year interest on every $100 Bond.

HOW AND WHERE

BUY U. S. GOVERNMENT LIBERTY BONDS!

Your banker will handle your purchase of Liberty Bonds without commission. He, and all the other Bankers and Bond Salesmen of this country, are nobly doing their part to make the Second Liberty Loan even more of a success than the First. But they can't do it without YOUR help.

LIBERTY BOND FACTS

1. Are United States Government Bonds.
2. Bear 4 per cent interest.
3. Exempt from normal tax.
4. Sold on installments. $2.00 down on each $100 of bonds purchased; $18 Nov. 15, 1917; $40 Dec. 15, 1917; $40 Jan. 15, 1918.
5. Convertible if later bonds bear higher interest rate.
6. Mature Nov. 15, 1942, but may be redeemed by Government on and after Nov. 15, 1927.
7. Are transferable and can readily be converted into cash at any time.
8. Place your order now through your Banker, Bond Salesman, Postmaster or this Store—and get 2 others to do the same.
